Oxford Handbook of Corporate Social Responsibility

Andrew Crane, Dirk Matten, Abigail McWilliams, Jeremy Moon, Donald Siegel

Oxford Handbook of Corporate Social Responsibility is a review of the academic research prompted, and responded to, the issues of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). Schools, the media, the corporate sector, governments, and non-governmental organizations have all begun to pay more attention to these issues in recent years. These issues raise broad questions about the changing relationship between business, society and the environment, environmental issues, corporate governance, the social and ethical dimensions of globalization, stakeholder debates, ... More

CSR, business, society, government, environmental issues, corporate governance, globalization, stakeholder, shareholder, consumer, political systems and values, corporations, social imperatives

Welcome to the home of the Oxford Handbook Series—The world's most trusted source for scholarly research reviews

The Oxford Handbook Series brings together the world's leading scholars to write review essays that evaluate the current thinking on a field or topic, and make an original argument about the future direction of the debate. Articles review the key issues, reveal original arguments and concepts, and set the agenda for new research. The books have become one of the most successful and cited series within scholarly publishing, and for the first time, the entire collection of work across 14 subject areas is available here.

OUR SUPPORTING RUSSIAN RESEARCH

Summary: international profile of Russian research

- Overall Russia accounts for under 2% of articles published in international journals
- 1% (216) of journals in the WoS are Russian based (compared to 227 from China)
- At OUP, Russian articles account for less than 0.5% of content
- This compares with 9% of our usage coming from Russia

Russia is a greater consumer than producer of (internationally recognised) research content at present

OUP wants to....

- Increase and improve submissions to OUP journals from Russia
  - Increase and improve Russian-based international journals

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Please read these instructions carefully and follow them closely to ensure that the review and publication of your paper is as efficient and quick as possible. The Editors reserve the right to return manuscripts that are not in accordance with these instructions.

All material to be considered for publication in The Review of Economic Studies should be submitted in electronic form via the journal's online submission system at <http://editorialexpress.com/restud>, where you will be guided through a simple and secure procedure which will enable you to upload your paper, along with any supporting material, and also enter or update your personal details

The Review of Economic Studies will publish papers only if the data used in the analysis are clearly and precisely documented and are readily available to any researcher for purposes of replication. Authors of accepted papers which contain empirical work, simulations, or experimental work, must provide to the Review, prior to publication, the data, programs, and other details of the computations sufficient to permit replication. These will be posted on the Review of Economic Studies web site. We reserve the right to refuse publication of papers whose authors do not comply with these requirements.

DATA

As soon as possible after acceptance, authors are expected to send their data, programs, and sufficient details to permit replication, in electronic form, to the Review office. Please send the files via e-mail to Annika Andreasson, indicating the manuscript number. Questions regarding any aspect of this policy should be forwarded to the Editors at the same email address.

MANUSCRIPT FORMAT AND STRUCTURE

Authors should upload a single pdf-file containing the complete manuscript (i.e. title page, abstract, text, figures and tables), as this makes the reviewing process easier for Editors and referees. This applies to the original version of the manuscript and any revised versions. Due to figure file size constraints, you may have to submit separate files for figures. The location of Tables and Figures should be indicated in the text.

Please also include the files for any other supplementary material to be submitted with your manuscript. It is recommended that authors spell-check all files before submission.

The first page of the manuscript must give: title of paper, contributor names, and the full address (including email) of the author designated to receive proofs/correspondence. An abstract of no more than 150 words should be included with all submissions. The name of the author(s) should appear at the beginning immediately under the title, with an asterisked footnote giving the present position of the author(s) and an address (including email) for contact by readers, together with any desired acknowledgements. Headings should be to journal style. Compound words should be hyphenated. Authors are responsible for checking the accuracy of all
